A Ferguson Valley Fairytale: How Our Dream Wedding Found Its Wings

What began as a vision of a simple, budget-friendly backyard wedding soon took an unexpected turn—one that led us down a path of magic, serenity, and the kind of effortless joy we didn't know was possible. Like many couples, we started by scrolling through Airbnb, half-jokingly wondering if a "cheap home wedding" could borrow a touch of grandeur. That's when Ferguson Valley Escape appeared on our screens: a lush, tropical sanctuary nestled just two hours from Perth, where emerald hills met endless skies. Suddenly, our humble plans felt smaller than the horizon stretching across our monitor.

From DIY Dreams to "Let Them Handle It"

Initially, we vowed to tackle everything ourselves—a DIY wedding fueled by Pinterest boards and determination. Sasha and Marty, the property's warm-hearted owners, patiently walked us through their packages, but we were convinced we could curate it all solo. Quotes rolled in, spreadsheets multiplied, and reality hit: planning a wedding is like conducting an orchestra blindfolded. The costs ballooned, stress simmered, and our vision of a "perfect day" began to fray. Finally, we surrendered. Handing the reins to Sasha and Marty wasn't just practical—it was liberating. We chose their curated package, trusting their expertise on catering, photography, harpists, and bartenders. The moment we paid the deposit, the weight lifted.

The Calm Before the Storm (That Never Came)

In the months that followed, Sasha and Marty became our anchors. They answered panicked emails at midnight, soothed last-minute jitters, and even fixed a power outage in 30 seconds flat (Marty's hero moment). Their dedication transformed the chaos of planning into something serene—a partnership where every detail felt intentional. By the time we packed our cars and left Perth, we were no longer two stressed planners, but guests at our own celebration.

Paradise Found

Arriving at Ferguson Valley Escape with our loved ones was like stepping into a living postcard. We'd visited before, but this time, the property hummed with anticipation. The gardens—manicured yet wild—framed every glance. The house, pristine and welcoming, seemed to exhale tranquility. Mornings began with mist-kissed views from the deck; evenings melted into golden sunsets that pooled over the valley. It wasn't just a venue—it was a sanctuary, polished yet unpretentious, where every corner whispered, this is your moment.

Addressing the Echoes of Doubt

As a business owner, I obsess over reviews. Yes, we'd seen the handful of negatives—a critique of water pressure, a grumble about value. But our experience was the opposite. The water pressure? Impeccable. The power? Flawless, save for Marty's lightning-fast fix. As for value: this wasn't a bargain-bin getaway. Ferguson Valley Escape is for those who understand that beauty, service, and peace of mind have a price—and that here, every dollar blooms into something extraordinary.

The Alchemy of Trust

Our wedding day unfolded like a dream we hadn't dared to imagine. The harpist's notes wove through the air; the bartenders crafted cocktails with a smile; the photographer captured glances we didn't know we'd shared. It was effortless, elegant, and utterly us—because Sasha and Marty didn't just execute a plan; they curated an experience. Trying to replicate this alone would have been like painting a masterpiece with broken brushes. Some things require experts. Some moments deserve magic.

To Sasha and Marty

You didn't just host a wedding—you gifted us a memory etched in golden light. Thank you for your patience, your grace, and the quiet way you turned chaos into calm. Ferguson Valley Escape isn't just a venue; it's a testament to what happens when passion meets purpose. You've crafted more than a business—you've built a haven where love takes center stage.

With endless gratitude,
The Ferrari Family

P.S. To future couples: If you're chasing cheap, look elsewhere. But if you're chasing "worth" - this is where your story begins

NADIA AND JULIAN REVIEW

LISA & BILLY REVIEW

• My now wife, Lisa, and I got married at Ferguson Valley Escape recently on the 22nd March.

• We invited 100 of our friends and family to celebrate with us over three nights.

• With such a large crowd we arranged 19 bell tents, extra toilet/bathroom facilities, camping space and we required car park areas for all the vehicles.

• At every turn Sascha and Marty facilitated our needs and made the property suitable for our requirements.

• We are a musical family, and we had multiple live acts playing in different areas of the property across the weekend.

• The big day was perfect. Everything went to plan and the team at Ferguson Valley were amazing. The day became reality exactly as we had imagined and it was a huge effort behind the scenes.

• Food was amazing.
Homestead and property presented beautifully.

• Our guests used all areas of the property including the pool oasis, BBQ and pizza ovens and surrounding hidden garden areas to relax.

• The house was at full capacity and yet everyone had their own self-contained rooms with their own private space.

• It was perfect!

• Thank you Sasha, Marty and all your team members that made our day one to always remember.

Pearl & Aaron Review

My husband Aaron and I got married at Ferguson Valley Escape on the 25th of April 2026 by Father Jess Navarra.

Sasha and Marty went above and beyond on our wedding day. They were with us the whole way with their warm and kind- hearted presence.

Marty took the time and effort to build a cross for us as he knew it was important to include a symbolic representation of our strong faith within the ceremony.

They helped made our vision become reality and allowed us to make our own extra touches/finer details by incorporating the galaxy orchid theme. (symbolizing the cosmic beauty of change and inner peace)

The food was amazing, served with love and passion! I am part French and Italian, so the chefs made sure there was plenty of food for 80 guests. (We had lots of leftovers!) Our family & friends all LOVED the food buffet! Us Italians can be fussy but NO complaints!

They also took my husband into consideration as he doesn't like cheese so made sure he was served with food for his preferences.

Ferguson Valley Escape is truly a hidden gem, the energy there is so relaxing and grounding, you have true connection to nature and feel content straight away upon arrival.

It was the first and only venue we looked at, and we fell in love straight away as it reminded us of Bali.

After our wedding day we indulged at their Escape Day Spa. We had the Hawaiian Massage (the best massage I've ever had!)

A big huge THANK YOU to all the team at Ferguson Valley Escape, you've helped made our wedding day turn into a dream come true which we will treasure forever!

Pearl & Aaron Mr. and Mrs. Rogers! x
